O'Leary and Kamber Jump into Talk Radio

Veteran political commentators Brad O'Leary and Vic Kamber will soon begin "The O'Leary/Kamber Report," their own talk radio show from Washington. Their one hour weekly show will feature "high profile, top political figures debating their viewpoints" on a wide range of topics in domestic and foreign policy.

O'Leary and Kamber, who claim to be experts on the Republican and Democratic parties respectively, are known for their heated debates on controversial subjects and they have been featured regularly on television and in newspapers.
